Shareholder Letter December 31, 2021

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

The Sprott Gold Equity Fund's (the "Fund") new fiscal year began January 1, 2021, with the gold price at $1,898 per ounce and finished the year on December 31 at $1,829 losing 3.64% for the year. However, gold posted an average price of $1,800 per ounce in 2021 compared to $1,770 in 2020. To a large extent, precious metals equities traded in-line in a pronounced fashion with precious metals prices throughout the year. The Fund (investor class) was down 11.79% for the twelve months, compared to the 6.46% decline for the PHLX Gold/Silver Sector Total Return Index (XXAU).¹ Commentary about Fund positioning, investment activity and our outlook will follow the discussion below on the market backdrop and the drivers that impacted precious metals markets in 2021.

Precious Metals Market Review

Gold prices started the first week of 2021 on a run-up to the 2021 year high of $1,950 per ounce with support from spiking COVID cases, U.S. political uncertainty, and lockdown restrictions and a weakened U.S. dollar. However, gold's early rise did not last as late winter saw gold prices under continued pressure with the roll-out of COVID vaccines, that was also reflected in higher U.S. Treasury yields and a stronger U.S. dollar. After gold prices traded to a low in early March at $1,684 per ounce, they found double-bottom support at around $1,685 per ounce in late March, which proved to be the low point for the gold price in 2021. As yields on U.S. 10-year Treasuries peaked out in late March and then edged downward, a move that coincided with U.S. dollar weakness, gold prices moved steadily upward, with support from a reversal of gold-backed ETF sales, as investors began to anticipate that any economic recovery could also incorporate inflationary pressures.

COVID recovery and setbacks supported gold prices during mid-year, along with markets' insensitivity to the development of inflationary pressures. Bond markets, in particular, took note, with U.S. 10-year Treasury yields sliding back to levels seen earlier in the year, concluding that a move to a higher interest rate environment was not immediate. In June, gold hit another double-bottom price at around $1,760 per ounce, as prices tumbled after the U.S. Federal Reserve ("Fed") signaled that monetary policy tightening could start earlier than expected, with Chairman Jerome Powell indicating that discussions about scaling back bond buying would begin.

Gold price action built a base during the first half of the year with price support set at year lows. However, the gold price also saw two more support points develop, around $1,730 per ounce in August and $1,726 per ounce late in the third quarter. From there, markets began to acknowledge inflation's presence but not yet the impact, and the Fed started transitioning its messaging to how it intended to address price pressures.

The October U.S. jobs report, which fell short of expectations, put the Fed in a difficult position, as it acknowledged that the inflation surge was lasting longer than expected and conditions were now showing support for tapering. Gold traded sideways into November and surged but corrected as gold-backed ETF inflows reversed several months of outflows in the U.S., while gold-backed ETF purchases remained strong elsewhere, and even as Singapore made a sizable purchase of gold for the first time in decades. The Omicron COVID variant and inflation concerns saw investors boost gold exposure toward the end of the year, with price momentum building into a strong finish to $1,829 per ounce by year end, well above the year's average of $1,800 per ounce.

Silver prices which are sensitive to manufacturing activity often trade in sync with gold since it is also considered a monetary metal. Silver prices began the year at $26.40 per ounce and finished at $23.31 per ounce, a 12% drop from beginning to end but posted an average daily price of $25.14 per ounce for 2021, which compares to an average daily price of $20.53 per ounce for 2020, a 22% increase for the average price.

Fund Positioning & Activity

As of December 31, 2021, the Fund's largest position was 70,660 ounces of physical gold, which is audited regularly and vaulted in a secure location. The gold bullion position represented 12.9% of the Fund's value at year-end and represented a decline from the 74,526 ounces the Fund held as of June 30, 2021. Some profit taking was realized from the sale of physical gold but it remains an important investment for the Fund as exposure to physical gold reduces the Fund's volatility and offsets the more volatile moves in gold and silver equities.

Precious metals equities account for the rest of the Fund's holdings and while the gold and silver price greatly influence them, each company has a unique value profile. Of the Fund's total investments, 72.0% are in gold mining stocks – companies that generate a large majority of revenue from gold production. Of the Fund's total investments, 8.9% are in silver mining stocks – companies that emphasize silver production. The remaining investments are primarily in cash and the gold bullion position. The Fund continues to find exposure to small- and mid-capitalization precious metals mining stocks more appealing because their valuations offer greater long-term appreciation potential than the PHLX Gold/Silver Sector Total Return Index (XXAU), which is heavily weighted to large precious metals producers.

During the year, Perseus Mining Limited was a new addition to the Fund. The company is now producing gold from several West African mining operations after starting its third mine in late 2020, which should almost double its gold output over the next year. Other notable additions included i-80 Gold Corp., a company that restructured some of the Premier Gold Mines Limited assets after a takeover and spin-out by Equinox Gold Corp. Positions in Agnico Eagle Mines Limited, Kinross Gold Corporation, Seabridge Gold Inc. and Wesdome Gold Mines Ltd. were increased during the year as those stocks offered attractive valuations. During the year, positions in Barrick Gold Corporation, B2Gold Corp., AngloGold Ashanti Limited, Franco-Nevada Corporation, Royal Gold, Inc. and Kirkland Lake Gold Ltd. were sold (de-emphasizing the larger-cap names), along with a reduction in the weighting of Jaguar Mining Inc. and Bear Creek Mining Corporation to provide liquidity for Fund flows.

Top Performance Contributors and Detractors

During the year, mergers and acquisition (M&A) activity picked up, which benefitted several holdings in the Fund, including Corvus Gold Inc., Pretium Resources, Inc., Kirkland Lake Gold and Agnico Eagle Mines. Corvus Gold, in which the Fund had a sizable ownership, received an all-cash bid by AngloGold Ashanti. Pretium Resources also received an offer from Newcrest Mining Limited during the fourth quarter. The Kirkland Lake Gold and Agnico Eagle Mines combination should enable those two companies to realize cost and operational synergies while becoming a prominent North American/Australian producer.

The announced acquisitions of Corvus Gold and Pretium Resources made those two the top-performing positions for the Fund in 2021. Other positions that added to the Fund's performance for the year included Gold Fields Limited, West African Resources Limited and i-80 Gold. Gold Fields was re-rated as new management took over and the market viewed its growth profile favorably, while West African Resources successfully demonstrated production from its new mine in Burkina Faso and announced an important property acquisition. i-80 Gold benefited from a spin-out announced in 2020 from the acquisition of Premier Gold by Equinox Gold which closed during the first quarter of 2021. Positions that detracted from the Fund's performance in 2021 included Jaguar Mining and SilverCrest Metals Inc. International Tower Hill Mines Ltd., MAG Silver Corp. and Torex Gold Resources Inc.

Precious Metals Equities Outlook

The gold mining industry has enjoyed a very profitable environment for the past three years. As mentioned, gold prices for 2021 were better on average than in 2020 and much better than 2019 before the global COVID pandemic. Operating profit margins for many gold mining companies are very favorable and exceed 30%, despite additional input and COVID-related costs, while capital allocation remains disciplined.

Shareholder Letter December 31, 2021

The improvement in precious metals prices over the past few years has not changed our investment strategy. We continue to focus on quality companies in sound financial positions, able to generate additional value from their assets (through discovery, development or production) or through positive corporate strategies and/or financial strength.

Approximately 55% of the Fund's net asset value¹ (over 60% if the Fund's gold bullion position is excluded) is exposed to companies that have a net negative debt position on their balance sheets. That is up from 45% at mid-year (June 30, 2021) and it means that over half the Fund's equity holdings have more cash than debt, which illustrates the financial strength of the gold mining sector. Having more cash than debt offers companies the financial flexibility to continue to re-invest in their natural resources, as well as increase shareholder returns with dividends and share buybacks.

Investment Outlook

Shrinking precious metals mine supply, robust physical demand, minuscule interest rates and the advent of problematic inflation failed to generate an advance in the gold price in 2021.

What stymied interest in precious metals over the past twelve months was the lure of strong equity market returns, the prospect of tighter monetary conditions and an infatuation with all things crypto. We expect things to be different in 2022. The bullish setup of supply and demand for the physical metal will, in our opinion, start to attract notice. We expect mine supply to continue its inexorable decline. Based on past history and our experience, a 25% rise in the gold price ($400-$500/oz.) would not significantly increase global mine supply for at least three to five years. Investment capital to build new production remains too scarce and economically viable projects are too few to significantly change the likely path of world production. The footprint of safe jurisdictions in which to invest dwindles with each lurch away from the rule of law in locations with good geology and mining infrastructure. Many Latin American, African and Asian countries previously considered mining friendly have become less welcoming to extractive industries of any stripe. The capital required to build new capacity bloats from cost inflation, increased regulatory risk and stretched timelines to complete construction. Mining companies, on balance, are not in an expansionary frame of mind.

Despite the emergence of high inflation, gold has thus far failed to respond in the manner expected by many. We agree with the market findings of Duke University Professor Campbell Harvey and Claude Erb, former commodities Portfolio Manager at the TCW Group: gold only protects purchasing power when measured over "very long periods, a century or more...and over shorter periods its real or inflation-adjusted price fluctuates no less than that of any other asset". We think it would be a mistake to position gold narrowly as an inflation hedge alone. Gold performed well during the inflationary 1970s and also when inflation wasn't on the front page between 1999 and 2011.

Gold becomes especially relevant when systemic risks are elevated and gold is viewed as a hedge against a variety of systemic risks — including inflation, deflation, monetary regime change, or just the plain monetary malpractice that seems prevalent now, with consequences still to be determined.

Looking at the current narrative in the market that inflation is the result of supply chain bottlenecks, and therefore transitory, ignores its deeply rooted monetary origins. As noted by former Fed Governor Kevin Warsh, "Consumer prices are higher because prices are rising at the points of production, assembly and transportation. [Supply chain bottlenecks] is a description of the state of affairs, not [inflation's] source." If inflation remains stubborn and is difficult to stamp out, financial asset valuations will need a rethink that could end up with a major market reversal that is necessary —higher real interest rates — is poison for super high valuations and a solid economic recovery to disrupt manic investment psychology.

The correlations between the financial markets, the economy and debt are very tight. With Fed policy taking a more hawkish turn, the fire hose of liquidity that has fueled the mania is being turned off. A deflation of financial assets would very likely trigger a downturn in economic activity, even more unacceptable politically, than the current high rate of inflation. For that reason, another "Powell Pivot" is still very much in the cards. It may just take longer and create more damage than the 2018 pivot. And Powell & Co. may decide to dig in their heels to offset inflation. It could be dangerous to underestimate the Fed's hawkish turn. If the Fed stays the course, prepare for a third policy mistake in three years, i.e., tightening into and exacerbating an economic slowdown already underway.

Confidence in the Fed and attraction to gold at the moment appear to be binary. We stand by our comments from our July 2021 You Gotta Have Faith report, "Faith in the Fed's omniscience is convenient to the investment consensus because it underpins the extraordinary overvaluation of financial assets."

Let's face it, despite pious subservience to the goals of full employment and price stability, the Fed's real mandate is to keep financial markets from coming unglued. The relationship between overvalued financial assets and belief in an all-knowing Fed is symbiotic. Loss of that faith for heavily sedated markets would lead to losses of trillions of dollars in the world of financial assets. That very real possibility is sufficient rationale for investment in gold and the expectation of much higher gold prices.

Shareholder Letter December 31, 2021

The Fed's adventure into hawkishness suggests that it is unknowingly straying from its implicit mandate of keeping markets from coming unglued. It appears the Fed does not understand that lip service rather than strict attentiveness to price stability is politically expedient. This error-prone institution is bound to become even more so given the two-decade legacy of monetary malpractice. The miracle is that investor confidence remains unbroken. We think a position in gold offers a very favorable asymmetric risk-reward proposition on the possibility that confidence will not survive 2022.

With best wishes,

Expense Example

December 31, 2021

As a shareholder of the Sprott Gold Equity Fund (the "Fund"), you incur two types of costs: transaction costs, including redemptions fees; and ongoing costs, including management fees; distribution fees; and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held the entire period (Jul 1, 2021 - Dec. 31, 2021).

Actual Expenses: The first line of each table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes: The second line of each table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratios and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as redemption fees, or exchange fees. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

1. ORGANIZATION

The Sprott Funds Trust (the "Trust") was organized as a Delaware statutory trust on January 3, 2018. As of December 31, 2021, the Trust consisted of three separate portfolios that each represent a separate series of the Trust. This report pertains to the Sprott Gold Equity Fund (the "Fund"). The Fund is a non-diversified, open-end management investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the "1940 Act"). The Fund's investment objective is long-term capital appreciation. The Fund seeks to achieve its objective by investing at least 80% of its net assets, plus borrowings for investment purposes, in securities of companies located throughout the world, in both developed and emerging markets that are primarily engaged in mining or processing gold. The Fund offers two classes of shares, Investor Class and Institutional Class. The two classes represent interests in the same portfolio of investments and have the same rights. Income, expenses (other than expenses attributable to a specific class) and realized and unrealized gains and losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares in proportion to their relative net assets.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of the financial statements. The accompanying financial statements were prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the year. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The Fund is considered an investment company under U.S. GAAP and follows the accounting and reporting guidance applicable to investment companies in the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") Accounting Standards Codification Topic 946 and Accounting Standards Update 2013-08.

A. Portfolio Valuation

The Fund's net asset value ("NAV") is determined daily, as of the close of regular trading on the NYSE, normally 4:00 p.m. Eastern time, on each day the NYSE is open for trading. The NAV is computed by dividing the value of all assets of the Fund (including accrued interest and dividends), less all liabilities (including accrued expenses and dividends declared but unpaid), by the total number of shares outstanding.

Portfolio securities are valued at the most recent sale price or official closing price reported on the exchange (U.S. or foreign) or over-the-counter market on which they trade. Portfolio securities traded on more than one securities exchange are valued at the last sale price on the business day as of which such value is being determined at the close of the exchange representing the principal market for such securities. Securities for which no sales are reported are valued at the calculated mean between the most recent bid and asked quotations on the relevant market or, if a mean cannot be determined, at the most recent bid quotation. Investments in open-end mutual funds such as money market funds are valued at the closing NAV.

The Fund's investments are valued at market value or, in the absence of market value with respect to any portfolio securities, at fair value according to procedures adopted by the Trust's Board of Trustees (the "Board"). When market quotations are not readily available or when events occur that make established valuation methods unreliable, securities of the Fund may be valued in good faith by or under the direction of the Board. These securities generally include, but are not limited to, restricted securities (securities which may not be publicly sold without registration under the Securities Act of 1933) for which a pricing service is unable to provide a market price; securities whose trading has been formally suspended; a security whose market price is not available from a pre-established primary pricing source or the pricing source is not willing to provide a price; a security with respect to which an event has occurred that is most likely to materially affect the value of the security after the market has closed but before the calculation of the Fund's NAV or make it difficult or impossible to obtain a reliable market quotation; or a security whose price, as provided by the pricing service, does not reflect the security's "fair value" due to the security being de-listed from a national exchange or the security's primary trading market is temporarily closed at a time when, under normal conditions, it would be open. As a general principle, the current "fair value" of a security would be the amount which the owner might reasonably expect to receive from the sale on the applicable exchange or principal market. A variety of factors may be considered in determining the fair value of such securities.

B. Restricted and illiquid securities

The Fund may invest in securities that are subject to legal or contractual restrictions on resale or are illiquid. A security may be considered illiquid if it lacks a readily available market or if its valuation has not changed for a certain period of time. Disposal of these securities may involve time consuming negotiations and expense, and a prompt sale at the current valuation may be difficult.

C. Fair Value Measurements

The Fund has adopted authoritative fair valuation accounting standards which establish an authoritative definition of fair value and set out a hierarchy for measuring fair value. These standards require additional disclosures about the various inputs and valuation techniques used to develop the measurements of fair value and a discussion in changes in valuation techniques and related inputs during the year. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below.

- Level 1 Quoted prices in active markets for identical securities.
- Level 2 Other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.).
- Level 3 Significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments).

When using the market quotations or closing price provided by the pricing service for equity investments, including common stocks, preferred stocks, foreign issued common stocks, exchange-traded funds, closed end funds and real estate investment trusts, which are traded on an exchange are valued at the last sale price reported by the exchange on which the securities are primarily traded on the day of valuation and when the market is considered active, the security will be classified as a Level 1 security. When using the mean between the latest bid and ask price, the security will be classified as Level 2. Gold bullion is valued using the latest available price on the valuation day, the security is classified as Level 1.

Investment in mutual funds, including money market funds, are generally priced at the ending NAV provided by the service agent of the funds and will be classified as Level 1 securities.

Debt securities, such as corporate bonds, convertible bonds, commercial paper, money market deposit accounts and U.S. government agency issues for which market quotations are not readily available may be valued based on information supplied by independent pricing services using matrix pricing formulas and/or independent broker bid quotations and are classified as Level 2. Warrants and rights for which the underlying security is registered and equities which are subject to a required holding period, but have a comparable public issue, are valued in good faith by the adviser pursuant to procedures established under the general supervision and responsibility of the Board. These securities will generally be classified as Level 2 securities. If the warrant or right is exchange traded and the official closing price of the exchange is used, these instruments are classified as Level 1 securities. Options can diverge from the prices of their underlying instruments. These are valued at the composite last price reported by the exchange on which the options are primarily traded on the day of the valuation and are classified as Level 1. If there is no composite last price on a given day the mean between the latest bid and ask price will be used. These contracts are classified as Level 2.

Any securities or other assets for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by the adviser pursuant to procedures established under the general supervision and responsibility of the Board and will be classified as Level 3 securities. In determining fair value, the Fund will seek to assign a value to the security which it believes represents the amount that the Fund could reasonably expect to receive upon its current sale. With respect to securities that are actively traded on U.S. exchanges, the Fund expects that market quotations will generally be available and that fair value might be used only in limited circumstances, such as when trading for a security is halted during the trading day.

For securities traded principally on foreign exchanges, the Fund may use fair value pricing if an event occurs after the close of trading of the principal foreign exchange on which a security is traded, but before calculation of the Fund's NAV, which the Fund believes affects the value of the security since its last market quotation. Such events may involve situations relating to a single issuer (such as news related to the issuer announced after the close of the principal foreign exchange), or situations relating to sectors of the market or the markets in general (such as significant fluctuations in the U.S. or foreign markets or significant changes in exchange rates, natural disasters, armed conflicts, or governmental actions).

In determining whether a significant event has occurred with respect to securities traded principally in foreign markets, the Fund may engage a third party fair value service provider to systematically recommend the adjustment of closing market prices of non-U.S. securities based upon changes in a designated U.S. securities market index occurring from the time of close of the relevant foreign market and the close of the NYSE. Fair value pricing may also be used to value restricted securities held by the Fund or securities with little or no trading activity for extended periods of time. Fair value pricing involves judgments that are inherently subjective and inexact and it is not possible to determine with certainty when, and to what extent, an event will affect a market price. As a result, there can be no assurance that fair value pricing will reflect actual market value and it is possible that the fair value determined for a security may differ materially from the value that could be realized upon the sale of the security.

The following is a summary of the inputs used to value the Fund's investments at December 31, 2021.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2021

The following table summarizes quantitative information about significant unobservable valuation inputs for Level 3 fair value measurement as of December 31, 2021.

Fund	Type of Security	Industry		Value at 31/2021	Valuation Techniques	Unobservable Inputs	ı	Range
Sprott Gold		Gold			Professional analysis of latest company valuation or financing, with appropriate discount applied
Equity Fund	Common Stock	Related Other	$	42,546	(if required)	Financing prices	$	0.02
		Precious			Professional analysis of latest company valuation
		Metals Related Other	•	,413,404 ,511,997	or financing, with appropriate discount applied (if required) Professional analysis of latest company valuation or financing, with appropriate discount applied	Financing prices	$	5.80
					(if required)	Financing prices	$0.7	75 - $8.00

The significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of the Fund's common stocks are the most recent financing prices of the portfolio company, which approximate the companies' value in the market place. The significant unobservable inputs used for the private fund is the latest price change of an Adviser deemed comparable proxy investment.

Significant changes in a companies' ability to receive financing for new projects in the future would be an indication of the companies' financial position and market value. Significant changes in the latest price change of the comparable proxy investment or a change in the adviser deemed comparable proxy investment could impact the value of the security.

The Trust's valuation procedures have been adopted by the Board, which has established a Valuation Committee to oversee the valuation process. The Valuation Committee meets on an as needed basis to evaluate changes in the valuation of portfolio securities. The full findings and valuations are then reviewed quarterly by the Board including the Independent Trustees.

Portfolio management and the trading department monitor fair valued positions for new financing or corporate actions that could lead to a change in valuation.

D. Gold and Precious Metals Mining Industry Risk

The Fund is sensitive to changes in, and its performance will depend to a greater extent on, the overall condition of the gold and precious metals mining industry. In times of stable economic growth, traditional equity and debt investments could offer greater appreciation potential and the value of gold, silver and other precious metals may be adversely affected, which could in turn affect the Fund's returns. The gold and precious metals industry can be significantly affected by competitive pressures, central bank operations, events relating to international political developments, the success of exploration projects, commodity prices, adverse environmental developments and tax and government regulations.

E. Foreign Investment Risk

The Fund's investments in non-U.S. issuers may involve unique risks compared to investing in securities of U.S. issuers. Adverse political, economic or social developments could undermine the value of the Fund's investments or prevent the Fund from realizing the full value of its investments. Emerging market countries may present heightened risks of nationalization of businesses, restrictions on foreign ownership and prohibitions on the repatriation of assets. The economies of emerging market countries also may be based on only a few industries, making them more vulnerable to changes in local or global trade conditions and more sensitive to debt burdens, inflation rates or adverse news and events. Where all or a portion of the Fund's underlying securities trade in a market that is closed when the market in which the Fund's shares are listed and trading in that market is open, there may be changes between the last quote from its closed foreign market and the value of such security during the Fund's domestic trading day.

F. Foreign Currency Translation

The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. Investment valuations and other assets and liabilities initially expressed in foreign currencies are converted each business day into U.S. dollars based upon current exchange rates. The portion of realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments due to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates is not separately disclosed and is included in realized and unrealized gains or losses on investments, when applicable.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2021

G. Gold Risk

Gold is subject to the special risks associated with investing in gold and other precious metals, including: (1) the price of gold or other precious metals may be subject to wide fluctuation; (2) the market for gold or other precious metals is relatively limited; (3) the sources of gold or other precious metals are concentrated in countries that have the potential for instability; and (4) the market for gold and other precious metals is unregulated.

H. Securities Transactions and Investment Income

Securities transactions are recorded as of the trade date. Realized gains and losses from securities transactions are recorded with a specific identification cost method. Dividend income and capital gains distributions, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income, if any, is recorded on the accrual basis.

I. Dividends and Distributions to Shareholders

Dividends from net investment income for the Fund, if any, are declared and paid annually or as the Board may determine from time to time. Distributions of net realized capital gains earned by the Fund, if any, are distributed at least annually.

J. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting year. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

K. Indemnification

In the normal course of business the Fund enters into contracts that contain general indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims against the Fund that have not yet occurred. Based on experience, the Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

L. Federal Tax and Tax Basis Information

The timing and character of income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from U.S. GAAP. Reclassifications are made to the Fund's capital accounts for permanent tax differences to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryforwards) under income tax regulations.

For the period ended December 31, 2021, the following reclassifications, which had no impact on results of operations or net assets, were recorded to reflect permanent tax differences:

	[Distributable Earnings	Pa	id in Capital
Sprott Gold Equity Fund	$	(1,776,370)	$	1,776,370

The permanent differences primarily relate to net operating losses.

As of December 31, 2021, the components of accumulated losses for income tax purposes were as follows:

Tax cost of Investments	$ 930,254,248
Unrealized appreciation	313,457,607
Unrealized depreciation	 (191,781,109)
Net unrealized appreciation	121,676,498
Undistributed operating income	_
Undistributed long-term gains
Distributable earnings	_
Other accumulated loss	(226,928,308)
Total accumulated gain	$ (105,251,810)

For the fiscal period ended December 31, 2021 the Sprott Gold Equity Fund had late year losses of $117,234.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2021

At December 31, 2021 the Fund had tax basis capital losses which may be carried forward to offset future capital gains as shown below:

	Capital Losses Expiring Indefinite Short-Term	Capital Losses Expiring Indefinite Long Term
Sprott Gold Equity Fund	$(12,366,165)	$(214,446,236)

To the extent that the Fund may realize future net capital gains, those gains will be offset by any of their unused respective capital loss carryforwards.

M. COVID-19

The global outbreak of coronavirus disease 2019 ("COVID-19") has disrupted global economic markets and adversely affected individual companies and investment products. The prolonged economic impact of COVID-19 is uncertain. The operational and financial performance of the issuers of securities in which the Fund invests depends on future developments, including the duration and spread of the outbreak, and such uncertainty may in turn impact the value of the Fund's investments.

N. Subsequent Events Evaluation

In preparing these financial statements, the Fund has evaluated events and transactions for potential recognition or disclosure resulting from subsequent events after the Statements of Assets and Liabilities date of December 31, 2021 through the date the financial statements were available for issue. This evaluation did not result in any subsequent events that necessitated disclosure and/or adjustments.

10. AVAILABILITY OF QUARTERLY PORTFOLIO HOLDINGS SCHEDULES

The Fund is required to file its complete schedule of portfolio holdings with the SEC for the first and third quarters of each fiscal year on Part F of Form N-PORT. 11. SECURITIES LENDING

The Fund may seek additional income by lending its securities on a short-term basis to banks, brokers and dealers in return for cash collateral, which is invested in short term securities. The Fund may return a portion of the interest earned to a third party that is unaffiliated with the Fund and acting as a "placing broker." The Fund receives compensation for lending securities in the form of fees. The Fund also continues to receive dividends on the securities loaned. Security loans are secured at all times by collateral. It is the Fund's policy that the collateral be equal to at least 102% of the market value of the securities loaned (105% if the securities loaned are denominated in different currencies) plus accrued interest when the transaction is entered into, and that the collateral supporting the loans be valued daily. However, due to market fluctuations during the day, the value of securities loaned on a particular day may, during the course of the day, exceed the value of collateral. On each business day, the amount of collateral is adjusted based on the prior day's market fluctuations and the current day's lending activity. Gain or loss in the market price of the securities loaned that may occur during the term of the loan are reflected in the value of the Fund. The risks from securities lending are that the borrower may not provide additional collateral when required or return the securities when due or when called for by the Fund. Lending securities entails a risk of loss to the Fund if and to the extent that the market value of securities loans were to increase, the borrower did not increase the collateral accordingly, and the borrower fails to return the securities. U.S. Bank N.A., the custodian, acts as the securities lending agent for the Fund. The value of the securities on loan and the cash collateral at December 31, 2021 are shown on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Shares of the Mount Vernon Liquid Assets Portfolio LLC were purchased with proceeds from cash collateral received from

	Value of Securities	Value of Cash
Fund	on Loan	Collateral Received
Sprott Gold Equity Fund	$28,383,874	$29,746,678

Securities loaned are not subject to any master agreements.

12. LIQUIDITY RISK MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

The Board of Trustees (the "Board") of the Trust, on behalf of the Fund, met on September 8, 2021 (the "Meeting") to review the liquidity risk management program (the "Program") established for the Fund. The Fund has adopted and implemented the Program as required by Rule 22e-4 (the "Liquidity Rule") under the 1940 Act. The Board appointed a committee consisting of officers of the Trust ("Sprott Liquidity Committee") as the program administrator for the Fund's Program.

At the Meeting, the Board was provided with the 2021 Liquidity Risk Management Program Annual Report (the "Report"), a report that addressed the operation of the Program and assessed its adequacy and effectiveness of implementation during the period covered by the Report (the "Program Reporting Period"). The Report stated that the Committee concluded that based on how it functions, the Program is operating as intended and is effective in implementing the requirements of the Liquidity Rule. The Report noted, among other items, that the Fund did not hold illiquid securities that, in the aggregated, exceeded 15% of the Fund's assets.

The Report further noted that during the Program Reporting Period, the Committee reviewed historical net redemption activity, and used this information and other factors as a component to establish the Fund's reasonably anticipated trading size. The Report additionally provided that the Program is reasonably designed to assess and manage the Fund's liquidity risk, taking into consideration, among other factors, the Fund's investment strategy and the liquidity of its portfolio investments during normal and reasonably foreseeable stressed conditions; its short and long-term cash flow projections; and its cash holdings and access to other funding sources.

The Committee reviewed the Fund's investments and determined that the Fund, in addition to maintaining a line of credit, held adequate levels of cash and highly liquid investments to meet shareholder redemption activities for the Fund in accordance with applicable requirements. Accordingly, the Committee concluded that (i) the Program is reasonably designed to prevent violations of the Liquidity Rule and (ii) the Program has been effectively implemented. There were no material changes to the Program during the Program Reporting Period.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Fund's financial statements based on our audit. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Fund in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB. We have served as the auditor of one or more of the funds in the Trust since 2019.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud. The Fund is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of the Fund's internal control over financial reporting. As part of our audits we are required to obtain an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of December 31, 2021 by correspondence with custodians and brokers; when replies were not received from brokers, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.
